THE NEWS.

The French seem to be again on the tide of success in Mexico, having already occupied various cities and towns hitherto in the hands of the Mexicans, and threatening others.

The Spanish authorities at St. Domingo, are also said to have gained another victory over the insurgents.

Another in the long list of steamboat accidents in our western waters, has taken place at Cairo in the case of the steamer Gladiator, not through the instrumentality of guerrillas or copperheads this time, but by solid ice.

Gold is quoted at $1.52, and stocks are better.

There is no news from our own armies, and nothing reported from the National Capital of much interest, except perhaps the move of Senator Wilson to cut down the enormous salaries and perquisites of collectors and naval officers in our posts.

On the whole the news is extremely meager.

A Nice Little Arrangement Spoiled.

Marshall Murray of New York City, at the instigation of our authorities at Washington, has just rendered himself exceedingly obnoxious to the great leaders of the Southern Confederacy, incurring undoubtedly their everlasting dislike. The cause of this bitter feeling between these parties may be briefly stated as follows: It seems that a very unfortunate letter had been intercepted and sent to Washington, divulging the existence of a contract between Mr. Memminger, the confederate secretary of the treasury, and a person in New York by the name of Winthrop E. Hilton, whereby the latter was to furnish the former with a quantity of bonds and bank notes, to help to keep the sinking craft a little longer afloat. Mr. Hilton was to procure the engraving, and the impression of these notes and bonds, and to furnish the printing apparatus, by which the confederacy could make their own money after the supply contracted for was exhausted, ad libitum. The work has been partly executed, and the letter states that it was superbly done. Several million dollars worth of bonds had been worked off, and about a million dollars worth of notes in denominations of $100, $50 and $5. The $100 bore upon their face, interspersed with vignettes and other embellishments, these most encouraging words: "Receivable in payment of all dues, except export duties. Six months after the Ratification of a Treaty of Peace between the Confederate States and the United States, THE CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA will pay ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS to bear date, with interest at two cents per day," dated Richmond, July 23, 1862, and signed by J. D. Walford for Treasurer, and T. F. Grayson for Registrar.

When the work was fully executed, it was to have been sent to Halifax, (an appropriate place) thence to Nassau to take its chances of running the blockade, with other contraband stuff. Till this little affair unwarrantably opening the letter, the thing had gone on swimmingly, and Mr. Memminger, after the doleful notes in his report to the confederate congress, was no doubt congratulating himself that he was to supply some "notes" of a more cheering kind; and Mr. Hilton was performing his part of the contract with the utmost skill and fidelity.

But alas for this well laid scheme; Marshal Murray, with lightning speed, was made acquainted by the aforesaid authorities with these proceedings, and straightway made arrangements with some of the police and detective force of the city, to be on the track of Mr. Hilton and others he had employed as assistants. The upshot of the matter was that these precious rags were seized and "confiscated" and, the precious rascals that worked them off and concealed them are now safely lodged and hospitably entertained at the "LaFayette" House.

The vignette upon the above described hundred dollar note is a "train of cars and steamship in the distance." Is it not fair to presume that this neat little device was not chosen by accident, but was intended to point out the way of escape for Davis, Memminger & Co., in the event of the failure of this last resort to raise the wind?

But to treat the matter more soberly, the opportune discovery of the plan and the prompt and successful apprehension of this material aid to keep alive the rebellion a little longer is as fortunate for our government and as disastrous to the confederacy as would be the loss to them and the gain to us of an important battle. The problem of furnishing the means to carry on the war longer is a much more intricate one to them than is the strategy of a battle or the plan of a campaign, and if Mr. Memminger fails as signally in other modes of supplying money as he has in this, the generalship of Beauregard and Bragg and Lee will be all in vain. But what shall we say of business men and artisans who can be

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.

It is believed that the rebels will not be able to accomplish anything at present in Shenandoah Valley, owing to inclement weather and condition of the streams. Shenandoah river is impassable from floating ice and the movements of our forces have been such as to preclude a possibility of bridge building by the enemy.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Jan. 10.

Herold's Special.—Faithful Chaplains in the army have held religious services to-day, but otherwise the routine is about the same as other days, though it is marked with an unusual degree of quiet along the lines, not even sensation rumors to relieve the monotony.

Gen. Meade has gone to Pennsylvania on a short leave of absence.

New York, Jan. 11.

By the steamship Columbia which arrived at this port yesterday we have highly interesting news from St. Domingo. Our advices from Mexico represent the French as meeting with almost uninterrupted success in progress of their different columns through the country. Various cities and towns had been occupied by imperial arms, including Guanajuato and Aguascalientes; the invaders were marching on Juarez, capital which they expected to occupy by Christmas. It is reported by the French and their partisans that Juarez himself would seek safety by fleeing to Texas.

Gen. Miramoa was engaged in raising a force to march on Durango. The entire state of Tamaulipas it was expected would soon be in possession of the imperialists. From St. Domingo we learn that the Spaniards had gained another victory over the insurgents in front of Puerto Plata, driving them successively from various positions, though the number of killed and wounded is said to have been comparatively small. Reinforcements for the Spaniards are constantly arriving, and it was supposed they would soon have sufficient force to overcome all opposition.

Cairo, 10th.

Gen. Sherman and staff are gone to Memphis. It is understood he will establish headquarters at Huntsville, Alabama.

The steamer Gladiator had a hole knocked in her hull by ice last night while loading on Coal and sunk to lower gears—her cargo is being removed when she will be raised.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.

Senator Sumner will to-morrow introduce a bill to remove the restoration in the matter of forfeiture of a rebel's estate for life, only leaving the forfeiture to be made as provided by the constitution. This bill will confirm Judge Underwood's decision, that the government had a right to hold in fee simple.

Quartermaster General Meigs had resumed the duties of his office.

All public buildings are being draped in mourning in memory of Hon. Caleb B. Smith.

WASHINGTON, 11.

Special to the Herald. Senator Wilson is drafting a bill to reduce the salary and emoluments of collectors, surveyors and naval officers to $6000 per annum, to prevent evasion of the law, fines and imprisonment will be attached, Congress has learned that these officers in some cases are receiving from $20,000 to $50,000 per annum.

New York, Jan. 11.

Special to the Post.—The committee of ways and means will probably recommend a reduction in naval estimates of 35 to 40 millions. It is thought that the house committee on military affairs will not recommend the conferring of Lieutenant General on Grant.

New York, Jan. 10.

Letters from East Tennessee of the 18th inst. to the Herald states that our forces have been driven back from Bean Station by Longstreet.

Our losses in four days' skirmishing reached about 200 men besides a few wagons.

Rebel prisoners state that Longstreet has been reinforced by Ewell, and he had been ordered to take Knoxville at all hazards.

Longstreet has 40,000 men.

Foster is at Knoxville and General Park commands in the field.

New York, 11.

Flour firm 6.80 a c 90. Extra short. Choice Pork firmer, 12.00 a 13.50 mess; Lard firm 13 a 13 1/2.

New York, Jan. 11.

Stocks better—money Sterling quiet, 67 a 67 1/2; Gold, 52 1/2; Sixes 82 1/2, 20s Coupons 147; 7s—30s 64 October and April.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 11.

Flour nothing doing. Wheat firm but dull. Sales 5000 No. 1 spring in store at 1.19 3/288 bush at 1.19.

Oats in store 69a60, delivered 60a61. Corn shelled delivered, 83a84, in the ear 70.

Barley firm at 122a123. Rye in store 96a99.

Receipts of dressed hogs, 412, head market very firm, tendency strongly upward. Sales varying from 6.50a7.50—chiefly at 6.50a7.50; for ordinary lots 6.50 a 7.50, for many divide on 200 lbs.

A ONE-LOGGED SKATER.—Among the numerous skaters on the Public Garden pond at Boston, within the last few days, no one has attracted more attention than a young man who, having lost one leg, has learned to skate with the other alone. With some assistance from a crutch he propels himself vigorously over the ice, and starts among the shifting crowd with as much apparent ease as if he was fully supplied with the usual means of locomotion. So says the Boston Post.

A witty fellow happening to step in at a little ale-house one day, called for a glass of the refreshing beverage. After drinking it, he said to the landlady, with the air of one who has some great secret to communicate. "Mrs. D., I'll tell you can sell a great deal more than you do." "How is that?" she asked. "Don't sell so much froth," was the reply.

NEW PROPRIETORS.—The Janesville Gazette has changed hands, being now published by Messrs. Thompson and Roberts. The new men say they expected to have their type in with a new dress, but did not get their type in season. The paper has visibly improved already, and when issued in a new dress will be of the best papers in the State.—Whitewater Register.

Gen. Cass is said to be as feeble that he cannot live much longer. He is in his 81st year.

A FISH STORY.

The Boston Journal, acknowledging the receipt of three handsome pickers, remarks:

"When the cook came to dress one of these pickers he found in him a little minnow an inch and a half long, as smart and as lively as if he had just been taken out of his native pond! He was put into a dish of water, and at last advices were swimming about as lively as ever. It was fortunate for him that the picker was caught soon after he was swallowed; but how the life of this fishy Jonah was sustained for more than twenty-four hours out of his native element is a mystery."

MARRIED.
